

Transcript.

OFFICE:
T. BUILDING, BANK STREET,
NORTH ADAMS, MASS.

Publishing Company

SHRINKS AND PROPRIETORS.

DAILY TRANSCRIPT.

By afternoon (except Sundays)
at 10 o'clock.
Rates:—One year, $6.00; six months, $3.50; one month, $1.00. For information about rates or address business office of the Transcript.

WEEKLY TRANSCRIPT.

By mail, strictly in advance.
Every Thursday morning.
Advertising medium especially advantageous for country trade.

ELECTRIC CALLS.

CHAS. J. KELLY, 230-12
N. Adams, Mass.

GRAPHIC SERVICE.

Delivered by Western Union wire up to date. Telephone No. 1234.

After telegraphic news (than any other in Western Massachusetts) delivered by the Full Telegraphic American Press Association.

It is the only newspaper in Adams, receiving regularly the news of the NEW ENGLAND
PRESS, the oldest and best news agency in New England.

VANDANA, D. D. S.

Chief of Police.

Office: 100 to 125, m. 1, to
p. m. Gold filling specialty.

ONS & CARPENTER.

Shoe and Boot Makers.

100 North Adams, Mass.

JOHN E. MAGENIS.

Notary Public.

No. 100 North Adams, Mass.

C. T. PHELPS.

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ANNE M. BLOSSOM.

Notary Public.

Office: 100 to 125, m. 1, to
p. m. Gold filling specialty.

B. W. NILES.

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

N. F. BARLOW, B. S.

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

W. G. PARKER.

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

J. H. FLAGG.

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADNER & BROTHER.

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

ADAMS

Notary Public.

100 North Adams, Mass.

UNITED PRESS.

By Telegraph

3.00 O'CLOCK.

By Telegraph

3.00 O'CLOCK.

ELECTROCUTED!

"Bat" Shea Pays the Penalty

of Death This Morning.

ROSS'S MURDER AVENGED.

SHEA SPENDS A NIGHT OF

SOUND SLEEPING AND EATS

A HEARTY BREAKFAST.

He Breaks Down Only Once!

CALMLY AND DETERMINEDLY HE

WALKS TO THE DEATH CHAIR

AND DIES COURAGEOUSLY.

The Electrocution a Success, and

Its Victim Pronounced Dead

in Eighty Seconds. Shea's

Last Statement.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

DANMORA, N. Y., Feb. 11.—"Bat"

Shea was electrocuted at 9:38 this morning for the murder of Robert Ross in Troy

on election day in the spring of 1894.

Shea's Last Night on Earth.

Shea retired quite early last night,

seemingly little disturbed by the awful

fate that certainly awaited him with the dawning of another day. Apparently,

he slept soundly during the whole night,

tossing only a little on his cot bed, and did not nurse himself till shortly after 7

o'clock this morning.

The Condemned Man's Last Break-

fast. He Breaks Down.

Shea had had an egg for breakfast.

Before he was served his spiritual adviser,

Rev. J. J. Swift, of St. Patrick's church,

Troy, and Rev. Father Belanger, the local

Catholic priest, arrived and the final rites of the church were administered.

Shea received the sacrament, shook hands

with Father Swift and said: "I am innocent, father, innocent." Then as the last

rites of anointing were performed a tear

started down his cheek and as Father

Swift held his head in his hands and blest him he gave a convulsive sob of anguish and repeated his assertion of innocence.

When the priests had finished he quickly recovered himself and when the

breakfast was brought he ate heartily, and

seemed to relish his last meal as much as any laboring man could enjoy his hard

earned food.

Gritting Ready for the Execution.

The prison gates were closed to all

comers, and in the village hotel, just outside the prison wall, were gathered

seventy-seven witnesses invited by

the warden to witness the execution.

These witnesses were made up almost exclusively of physicians and newspaper men all present in official capacities. At

UNITED PRESS.

By Telegraph

3.00 O'CLOCK.

By Telegraph

3.00 O'CLOCK.

ELECTROCUTED!

"Bat" Shea Pays the Penalty

of Death This Morning.

ROSS'S MURDER AVENGED.

SHEA SPENDS A NIGHT OF

SOUND SLEEPING AND EATS

A HEARTY BREAKFAST.

He Breaks Down Only Once!

CALMLY AND DETERMINEDLY HE

WALKS TO THE DEATH CHAIR

AND DIES COURAGEOUSLY.

The Electrocution a Success, and

Its Victim Pronounced Dead

in Eighty Seconds. Shea's

Last Statement.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

DANMORA, N. Y., Feb. 11.—"Bat"

Shea was electrocuted at 9:38 this morning for the murder of Robert Ross in Troy

on election day in the spring of 1894.

Shea's Last Night on Earth.

Shea retired quite early last night,

seemingly little disturbed by the awful

fate that certainly awaited him with the dawning of another day. Apparently,

he slept soundly during the whole night,

tossing only a little on his cot bed, and

did not nurse himself till shortly after 7

o'clock this morning.

The Condemned Man's Last Break-

fast. He Breaks Down.

Shea had had an egg for breakfast.

Before he was served his spiritual adviser,

Rev. J. J. Swift, of St. Patrick's church,

Troy, and Rev. Father Belanger, the local

Catholic priest, arrived and the final

rites of the church were administered.

Shea received the sacrament, shook hands

with Father Swift and said: "I am innocent, father, innocent." Then as the last

rites of anointing were performed a tear

started down his cheek and as Father

Swift held his head in his hands and

blest him he gave a convulsive sob of

anguish and repeated his assertion of innocence.

When the priests had finished he quickly recovered himself and when the

breakfast was brought he ate heartily, and

seemed to relish his last meal as much as

any laboring man could enjoy his hard

earned food.

Gritting Ready for the Execution.

The prison gates were closed to all

comers, and in the village hotel, just out-

side the prison wall, were gathered

seventy-seven witnesses invited by

the warden to witness the execution.

These witnesses were made up almost

exclusively of physicians and newspaper

men all present in official capacities. At

UNITED PRESS.

By Telegraph

3.00 O'CLOCK.

By Telegraph

3.00 O'CLOCK.

ELECTROCUTED!

"Bat" Shea Pays the Penalty

of Death This Morning.

ROSS'S MURDER AVENGED.

SHEA SPENDS A NIGHT OF

SOUND SLEEPING AND EATS

A HEARTY BREAKFAST.

He Breaks Down Only Once!

CALMLY AND DETERMINEDLY HE

WALKS TO THE DEATH CHAIR

AND DIES COURAGEOUSLY.

The Electrocution a Success, and

Its Victim Pronounced Dead

in Eighty Seconds. Shea's

Last Statement.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

DANMORA, N. Y., Feb. 11.—"Bat"

Shea was electrocuted at 9:38 this morning for the murder of Robert Ross in Troy

on election day in the spring of 1894.

Shea's Last Night on Earth.

Shea retired quite early last night,

seemingly little disturbed by the awful

fate that certainly awaited him with the dawning of another day. Apparently,

he slept soundly during the whole night,

tossing only a little on his cot bed, and

did not nurse himself till shortly after 7

o'clock this morning.

The Condemned Man's Last Break-

fast. He Breaks Down.

Shea had had an egg for breakfast.

Before he was served his spiritual adviser,

Rev. J. J. Swift, of St. Patrick's church,

Troy, and Rev. Father Belanger, the local

Catholic priest, arrived and the final

rites of the church were administered.

Shea received the sacrament, shook hands

with Father Swift and said: "I am innocent, father, innocent." Then as the last

rites of anointing were performed a tear

started down his cheek and as Father

Swift held his head in his hands and

blest him he gave a convulsive sob of

anguish and repeated his assertion of innocence.

When the priests had finished he quickly recovered himself and when the

breakfast was brought he ate heartily, and

seemed to relish his last meal as much as

any laboring man could enjoy his hard

earned food.

Gritting Ready for the Execution.

The prison gates were closed to all

comers, and in the village hotel, just out-

side the prison wall, were gathered

seventy-seven witnesses invited by

the warden to witness the execution.

These witnesses were made up almost

exclusively of physicians and newspaper

men all present in official capacities. At

UNITED PRESS.

By Telegraph

3.00 O'CLOCK.

By Telegraph

3.00 O'CLOCK.

ELECTROCUTED!

"Bat" Shea Pays the Penalty

of Death This Morning.

ROSS'S MURDER AVENGED.

SHEA SPENDS A NIGHT OF

SOUND SLEEPING AND EATS

A HEARTY BREAKFAST.

He Breaks Down Only Once!

CALMLY AND DETERMINEDLY HE

WALKS TO THE DEATH CHAIR

AND DIES COURAGEOUSLY.

The Electrocution a Success, and

Its Victim Pronounced Dead

in Eighty Seconds. Shea's

Last Statement.

[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

DANMORA, N. Y., Feb. 11.—"Bat"

Shea was electrocuted at 9:38 this morning for the murder of Robert Ross in Troy

on election day in the spring of 1894.

Shea's Last Night on Earth.

Shea retired quite early last night,

WHAT A CHANCE.

Never before offered . . .

One Set CHRISTY PATTERNS.

Knives consisting of . . .

One Bread Knife,
One Meat Knife,
One Paring Knife

For 25 Cents.

Also One Bread Knife for 10 Cents.

See our window.

We are Headquarters for HARDWARE.

Get our Prices.

Prompt Attention Guaranteed.

W. E. PENNIMAN

You'll Be Surprised!

To know how far a dollar goes in our store. At the present prices you can get fully once and a half the Value of Your Money.

Remember everything marked at little small

Prices for this Season.

Come in and look at our values next week.

TUTTLE & BRYANT.

Are You Tired of the Color of Your Overcoat?

Is it Faded or Soiled?

It can be CLEANED or DYED another Color to your entire satisfaction.

BLANCHARD'S DYE HOUSE,
28 Eagle Street.James O'Brien & Co.
FASHIONABLE TAILORS.

Our Suits made to order for $22.00 and upwards are the best value ever offered the public. Our Trousers to order for $5.00 and upwards have no equal. All furnishing goods at less than cost. Strictly First Class work guaranteed.

JAMES O'BRIEN & CO.
55 EAGLE STREET.

North Adams Cash Coal Co.

New office Holden St. We offer you the BEST COAL obtainable in this section.

Lackawana Valley Coal,

A No. 1 Baled Hay, A No. 1

By Carload, Ton or Bale.

Best Quality Hard Wood,

$1.00. 12 Baskets 12 $1.00.

Johnson & Cleghorn,

AGENTS.

53 Holden St. 35 Eagle St. Telephone 71-3.

Ladies and Gentlemen!

If you want an Artistic job in the

CLEANING, PRESSING AND REPAIRING

of your garments, call on

M. O'DEA, 28 Holden St.

Agent for the well-known and first-class

Dry House and Cleaning Establishment of McCOMBE & SONS, Albany, N. Y.

Garments called for and Promptly Delivered.

BARGAINS IN Second Hand Bicycles.

To clear our stock and make room for NEW 1896 samples.

We have a few more nearly new 1895 wheels that are great bargains for cash purchasers.

Free instruction at our Academy to all wheel purchasers.

We already have in a dozen NEW 1895 wheels.

Look them over whether you intend purchasing this season or not.

An examination of their features means a liberal education in wheels.

If you haven't time to call, let us mail you some of the finest of the 1896 High Art Catalogues.

Berkshire Cycle Co.

C. H. HUBBARD, Manager.

82 MAIN STREET.

HOSEA COURT.

Hotel Williams,

J. J. MURPHY, PROPRIETOR.

Meals at all hours.

Cuisine unexcelled.

Steam Heat throughout.

Rates Two Dollars per day.

Feed and Boarding Stables in rear.

THE TATTLER.

Mrs. Jonathan Roberts of Somerset, Ky., is the proud mother of 95 children. Princess Helena of England (Princess Christian of Sleswick-Holstein) is writing a book of etiquette for women in good society.

Miss Isabel Worrell Ball of the Topeka Capital is the first woman correspondent admitted to the press gallery in the house of representatives.

Miss Willard in a recent address spoke of Mrs. Cogrover of Joplin, Mo., as "one of the most successful dealers in mines and real estate in the world."

Women are taking up the art of book-binding, and one of them, Miss S. T. Prudden, has already won the highest distinction in England in its practice.

Mrs. Alfred Twichell of Bethel, Me., has in her day worked 400 rugs, "mostly drawn in," and samples of her work are now in every state in the Union except Utah.

Yvette Guilbert says Bernhardt "is 55 years old if she is a day," and Bernhardt declares she has never seen Guilbert, "because she sings in concert halls, and I never go to such places."

Mrs. Senator Atkins of West Virginia is a brunette of remarkable beauty. She is very fond of society and has wealth to assist her, and her home will probably be one of the gayest in Washington.

Mrs. Dimmick, who is to wed General Harrison, married Walter Dimmick, a brilliant young lawyer, 15 years ago. He died while they were on their wedding tour. For eight years she wore mourning for him.

The once famous Louisa Payne, who was one of England's favorite operatic and oratorio singers, is suffering in great poverty. Lady Bardsley, Countess of Strathmore and Mr. Charles Sandley have joined in an appeal for money.

Mrs. Helen J. Bell, the new librarian of the Mississippi State library, was one of 19 candidates for the place. Mrs. Bell was elected by the legislature upon the seventh ballot. She is a widow, with four children, and is a native of Mississippi.

Queen Margaret of Italy believes the game of billiards to be improving to her figure, which is somewhat inclined to stoutness, and she is fond of retiring with her ladies to the billiard room and indulging with them in exciting tournaments.

Grand Duchess Marie Valerie, the youngest daughter of Emperor Francis Joseph, has, according to a European rumor, a chance to become empress of Austria upon the death of her father. It is said that the emperor desires to make her his heiress.

Miss Stone, who dramatized "The Social Highwayman," is a slight, graceful, blonde. After the close of the evening I get at my desk, and from then until 3 in the morning I am busy getting up what you may call inspiration and writing steadily."

Hetty Green attracted attention in the Lafayette hotel, in Philadelphia, the other day, when she bargained with the clerk for a cheap room. She was dressed in rather rusty black, as usual, with a dark green veil wrapped around a commonplace bonnet, and she carried a cane.

THE WORLD'S RIVERS.

Slow rivers flow at the rate of three to seven miles an hour.

The branches of the Mississippi have an aggregate length of 15,000 miles.

The River Jordan has its origin in one of the largest springs in the world.

The Paraná of Brazil and Argentina is 2,800 miles in length, and after the Amazon is the largest river in South America.

River water purifies itself. A few miles below a large city no trace of impure matter can be found in the waters of a river into which its sewers empty.

The Nile mud, which renders Egypt a habitable country, is said to bear a striking resemblance to the soil which every season is brought down by the Nile.

Counting the Mississippi and Missouri as one stream, the total length of this great inland ocean is over 3,000 miles. Considered separately the Mississippi is 2,810 miles and the Missouri 2,047.

The British Islands are better provided with rivers than any other country of the same size on the globe. The River Sever, according to Homer, the principal river of hell. It encircled the infernal regions seven times.

The river Euphrates flowed through the city of Babylon, and on each side of its banks the walls of the city were carried up to a height as great as at any other point, and even during a siege the city was as firmly defended on the river as on the land side.

TAIL TWISTERS.

Geographically England is surrounded by water, and diplomatically she appears to be completely surrounded by isobars. —Wolcott Eagle.

John Bull hasn't succeeded in hypnotizing the Russian bear as yet, and the chances are he never will succeed. —Indianapolis News.

As England's flying squadron is provisioned for six months, perhaps it is going round the world just to scare everybody. —New York Journal.

England has discovered that if she wants a war she can get it by applying to almost any other nation in the world. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

In the talk about Venezuela we seem to have forgotten that there is a little difficulty about an Alaskan boundary which we have yet to settle with England. —St. Louis Republic.

Having married American girls, half the dukes and lords of England would naturally be on our side in case of war with that country. Otherwise their American fathers-in-law would be likely to cut off their cash supplies. —Atlanta Constitution.

To a man with a sense of humor there must be something very delightful in the way in which England, quarrelling noisily with America over Venezuela and with Germany over the Transvaal, is quietly gathering in Ashland under cover of the noise. There is a good deal of subtlety in Johnny Bull. —New York World.

OUR GIRLS.

We have not heard that any American brides have been sent back to America as worthless securities. —Syracuse Post.

All Free.

Those who have used Dr. King's New Discovery know its value, and those who have not, have now the opportunity to try it free. Call on the advertised Druggist and get a Trial Bottle Free. Send your name and address to H. E. Bucken & Co., Chicago, and get a sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills Free, as well as a copy of Guide to Health and Household Instructor, Free. All of which is guaranteed to do you good and cost you nothing. —Burlington & Darby's Drug Store.

HARVEY A. GALLUP

BUYS,

SELLS

and EXCHANGES

Real Estate

Boland Block, N. Adams.

THE LISTENER.

Speaker Reed, Senator Frye, chairman pro tempore of the senate, and Chief Justice Fuller are graduates of Bowdoin college.

Sir Walter Besant has turned topographer, and has accepted the office of director in chief of the new government survey of London.

"Jacques St. Clare," the ultra-nationalist French pamphleteer and contributor to Figaro, turns out to be a German journalist named Rosenthal.

Sir Augustus Fleming, the now governor of British Guiana, though 54 years old, is an active cricketer, playing with the Incomitables at his annual tours.

Chief Justice Beasley of New Jersey has sworn in ten governors, beginning with Theodore F. Randolph and continuing down the line to John W. Griggs.

Governor Hastings of Pennsylvania, who has been in Hot Springs, Ark., for some time on account of illness, has returned to Harrisburg, with his health fully restored.

John Alden, the ninth of that name, is living in John Alden's house at Duxbury, Mass., which was built in 1660, and in which the original John Alden lived during the latter part of his life.

The Rev. J. A. Rondthaler, pastor of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church, Indianapolis, has been forced to resign his charge because certain members of his congregation were so opposed to his riding a wheel.

Lord Brassey has scandalized Melbourne society. The first time he occupied the vice-regal box at the theater he noticed, sitting in the gallery, several sailors from his own ship, and he was obliged to "nodded familiarly" to them.

George W. Putnam, who died the other day at his home in East Sausage, Mass., at the age of 83 years, was prominent in the antislavery movement and acted as private secretary for Charles Dickens when the novelist visited this country.

Durian White Stevens, the counselor of the Japanese legation in Washington, is an American who resided many years in Japan and became thoroughly acquainted with its language, history and customs. Mr. Stevens is thoroughly American, but in diplomacy is Japan's right hand man.

John Washington Postell is the first negro to be honored in Kentucky with a high position. He has just been appointed steward of the Western Kentucky Lunatic asylum at Hopkinsville, a position which is next to that of superintendent. Mr. Postell is 27 years old and nearly white.

Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska was in a quandary of the Cherokee, son of Eric the Red of Scandinavia, who is said to have made an expedition to Vineland (New England) in 1005. At a later period the family settled in England, and one of its members was Thurston, twenty-eighth archbishop of York.

William E. Curtis is authority for the statement that Jose Macon, the Cuban general, who has a mountain band, "plotted the capture of John Sherman, while that gentleman was making a tour through Cuba some years ago. It was intended to seize him, carry him off into the mountains and hold him for ransom."

SISTERLY CITIES.

New York lost the two national conventions, but it will catch the Harrison-Dimmick wedding. —Chicago Times-Herald.

St. Louis will put up everything for the Republican convention except the board of visitors. And it will probably raise that. —Indianapolis News.

New Yorkers may as well prepare to turn green with envy when Boston's own horse show—and beauty show—comes with the spring. —Boston Globe.

Chicago papers are disatisfied with the aldermen of that city. If Chicago were a better city, perhaps it would have better aldermen. —New York Press.

Chicago will continue to use New York as one of its ports of entry, whether it gets to be "greater" or continues to stand in second place. —Chicago Inter Ocean.

The world is trying desperately to make New York city known as the wickedest city on the continent. We protest on behalf of Chicago. —Rochester Post-Express.

Chicago is one of those cities most noted as the habitat of the American hoodler. The sure road to wealth in Chicago is by adopting the profession of the hoodler. —St. Paul Dispatch.

Ever since Chicago read of the Burden case she has been trying to get together enough diamonds to form the basis of a first class sensational robbery. The trouble in the Windy City is that export burglars can detect paste goods at a glance. —New York Mail and Express.

JEWELRY CONCEITS.

Tortoise shell combs show applied decorations in gold and silver.

A pretty neck chain of fanciful description is composed of pearls set alternately with beads of dull chased gold.

Necklaces composed of several rows of small pearls, kept in their places by three diamond slides, are if anything more in vogue than ever.

The modern chandelier pin measures several inches in length, and from it hang seven chains of various lengths, to which the chandelier belongings are attached.

Chandelier watches for dress occasions have the backs paved with brilliant, supplies of pearls. In all cases the pin to which they are attached is invariably set with stones or enameled to match. —Jewelers' Circular.

A FEW CONUNDRUMS.

Does anybody know of anybody who has hunted up some gold in his old stockings and subscribed to the "popular loan"? —Lowell Courier.

A London paper has referred to the Kaiser as "a pappy emperor." Now, what would have happened to the Kaiser if he had been called the Kaiser's "pappy" grandfather? —Cleveland Press.

A timorous Gotham paper wants to know how the neoclassical inhabitants can protect themselves when English men-of-war begin throwing shells ten miles inland. That's easy. Blow up the Welland canal and come to Chicago. —Chicago Dispatch.

THE ST. PAUL.

It's bad enough for the St. Paul to run an engine this country. It might be worse for an enemy's ship. —Philadelphia Times.

When a transatlantic liner's captain is so ambitious to make a record that he forgets to shut off steam and runs into dry land, it is time to stop. —Chicago Record.

Apropos of the accident to the St. Paul, it is explained that over 100,000 passengers are packed in the ship. Each passenger is packed in the ship. That is all. This explanation, being official, ought to be deemed conclusive. —Boston Transcript.

LITTLE CUBA.

At the rate Spain is suppressing Cuba the 20 years' war will not be in it. —Butte News.

England is not buying Cuba. She doesn't get land that way. It is not her kind of a bargain counter. —Chicago Inter Ocean.

Why should England want Cuba? There is no gold on the island, and before the war is over there will be very little of anything else. —Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

WARTON AND PRINCE FRED.

The Laureate's Metrical Gait and a Rhymer's Metrical Candidness.

Warton of course is not a man to be despised, but his laureate is only a passing episode at the end of his career. His real work was historical and critical, and had nothing to do with the annual turning out of metrical odes. But there is some entertainment about Laureate Warton. To begin with, Warton had when he actually possessed it. When George II's foolish son, the Prince of Wales, died in 1751, Warton broke out into metrical cant about a nation's tears, the fact being that the nation did not shed or affect to shed the most profuse tears for the loss of a poet.

There was a rhymer who knew far better what the nation thought. Here was Prince Fred.

Who was alive and is dead. Had it been his father. Had it been his mother. Had it been his brother. Had it been his sister.

There's no one who has missed her; Had it been the whole generation. Best of all for the nation: But, since it's only Fred, There's no more to be said.

The writer of these lines never became laureate.

Warton, however, did, and he is ready to afford us another few minutes' diversion. "The Rhymer" is not much remembered now, and it hardly has much claim on remembrance. But more than 100 years ago, when Whitehead died, it gained for its author a very fair reputation. Its authors produced a series of mock odes, supposed to be written by possible candidates for the laureateship. They thus professed their work:

"In order to administer strict and impartial justice to the numerous candidates for the vacant laureateship, many of whom are of illustrious birth and high character, notice is hereby given that the same form will be attended to in receiving the names of the said candidates which is invariably observed in registering the court dancers."

Each candidate is expected to deliver in a public hall, on the day of his name, and also personally to appear on a future day to recite the same before such literary judges as the lord chamberlain in his wisdom may appoint. —Temple Bar.

DANGEROUS LIGHTS.

Occultists Protest Against the Use of Electricity With Plain Globes.

An English paper states that London occultists are up in arms against the very serious danger to the community caused by the electric light. Several eminent eye doctors are agreed on the point that unless a screen is put to the electric light, the electric lights in the streets, and in shops and offices, nearly all the population will become blind. Experts are so greatly exercised in the matter that they even suggest that parliament should take it up and prohibit the use of plain glass globes for electric light unless they are properly shaded.

Commenting on this, a London electrical journal says: "It is not customary to look at the sun, and not even the most enthusiastic electrician would suggest that naked arcs, and incandescent filaments were objects to be gazed at with impunity. But naked arcs are not usually placed so as to come within the line of sight, and when they do so accidentally, whatever may result, the injury to the eye is quite perceptible. The filament of a glow lamp, on the other hand, is more likely to meet the eye, but a faint, continuous glow, of the simple and common way of entirely getting over that difficulty. The whole trouble can easily be remedied by the use of properly frosted or colored glass globes. In any case, however, the actual permanent injury to the eye by the glowing filaments is no greater than due to an ordinary gas flame."

Women and Their Lovers.

It is easy enough to tell a man by his friends, but it is impossible to tell a woman by her lovers. One reason for this is that a man usually shows himself to his fellows as he is, but it is impossible for his fellows to know how he shows himself to a woman, so long as he is in love with her. In that blissful condition the rude, offhand man of business becomes to his mistress a picture of clumsy courtesy.

The coward is capable of feats of valor from which a woman's suitor would shrink; the mean tradesman's person will stop before the shops of jewelers, hesitates at last; and the rake will honestly regret the hearts he believes that he has broken, and, for the moment, steadfastly purpose to lead a new life. But if these men had favor the eyes of the sensitive woman it is not for their pretty manners, nor their courage, nor their generosity, nor their pure mindedness. That women are not repelled by their vices; that is all they are not attracted by their lately assumed virtues. Why should they be? They are not courageous, nor generous, nor especially pure minded themselves, and, as for their pretty manners, perhaps their minds or their children could tell you something about those that would astonish you not a little. —London Realm.

Facts About Lead Pencils.

Herr Ernst Faber, a son of Johann Faber, delivered before the Polytechnic society of Berlin a lecture on the history of lead pencils. How old the lead pencil is nobody knows exactly, but, generally, out of which the pencil is fabricated is not used for drawing in Albert Durer's time, so that the pencils must have come into vogue subsequent to his period. The Cumberland deposits were discovered in the sixteenth century and carefully watched by soldiers lest the precious material should be stolen. A century later the first German pencil maker commenced business in Nuremberg. He thus founded what grew to be a most important industry. At present graphite is mainly derived from the mines of Bohemia. But it can easily be made in the electric furnace from carbon, and this is a first step towards the fact of certain classes of iron. It is not improbable that ere long those districts which supply the world with iron will also supply it with pencils. —Pall Mall Gazette.

Pleasant For Children.

A mother suggests a pleasant occupation for little children—namely, cutting faces out of white and colored paper. The characters and objects read about in their favorite nursery stories—Jack and Jill and the pail of water, Boppy and her sheep, Little Red Riding Hood, her Grandmother and the Wolf. If the child has not enough inventive genius to do this, a first step is to make a face out of the paper and to cut it out to wish to try it himself. It will teach him to observe outlines as well as to exercise his imagination and interest when making pictures with pencil or brush has temporarily lost its charm. —New York Post.

The Japanese of all classes, though poor and "gentle" as Venetians or Venetians, are sensitive to insanity about insult, and especially insult to the nation as a whole. All foreigners who have studied them deeply state that there is a tendency to vindictive rage, such as made the samurai, or armed retainers of the great houses, the most formidable of all pursuants. A cool, says one recent writer who had lived years among Japanese, will nurse a wrong for years, and will be ready to reach the man who has insulted him, stab him to death and then anticipate justice by a determined suicide. —London Spectator.

Paternal Advice.

"Mickey," said Mr. Dolan to his son, "Older be afraid yer gettin' to be a dude." "I hope not."

"Well, Ol' I've noticed yer wearin' yer Sunday clothes the week through, an' that yer pay yer gas in the blacksmith shop. Ol' I've noticed yer wearin' yer Sunday clothes the week through, an' that yer pay yer gas in the blacksmith shop. Ol' I've noticed yer wearin' yer Sunday clothes the week through, an' that yer pay yer gas in the blacksmith shop."

A great many persons believe that art is not a thing. This supposition arises from the fact that in moonlight night, during the summer months, have often been seen at work about their nests.

HOW HE LEARNED RUSSIAN.

Bismarck's Wrath at "the Diabolical Obstacles in Its Pronunciation."

Bismarck was Prussian ambassador to St. Petersburg in 1869 and lived in the house of Count Schinbock-Fernow. M. Alexeff was a law student of the time, and it was on the recommendation of the count at Hamburg that Bismarck selected him as his tutor.

"By appointment," says Alexeff, "I went to the mansion at 10 o'clock in the morning. Bismarck was then at breakfast. One of the lackeys showed me into the grand parlor, which was elaborately furnished. A few minutes later Bismarck came in, dressed in a dark blue morning gown and wearing a black silk cap. Although he was only 45 years old, he was already bald. I told him that I was a law student, and he commenced to ask me questions. While he was interrogating me I had a good chance to examine him. He was tall of stature, with broad, square shoulders and thick eyebrows and mustache. Over the mustache on the upper lip there was a clasp, the result of a wound received in a duel when he was a student. He shook his hand, remarking: 'You are a law student? Then you are my confederate, for I also have studied law.' He pointed to a chair, named his conditions and fixed the hours of his lessons.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Scholz of East Hoosac street this morning.

Michael Libbey, the efficient roadmaster of the Hoosac Valley Street railway, has resigned his position.

Rev. H. B. Fossitt officiated at the funeral of the late Mrs. Richard Cummings which occurred from her late home on Friend street at 11 o'clock this morning. Interment was in Pownall.

This morning one of the horses on Milman William Nelson's sleigh, slipped and fell near the town hall, and the other one fell over it. There was no damage done to either horse or sleigh but the pole was broken.

At Monday evening's meeting of the select men, these jurors were drawn for the February sitting of the superior court: Charles E. Legate, Michael Raity and Edwin A. Green.

William Sherry, who sustained a serious forearm fracture by falling down the second story of the new Berkshire mill, some months ago, has suffered considerably and was obliged to submit to an operation Monday.

Supper will be served by the Methodist ladies at Trinity church this evening.

From 6.30 to 8.30 o'clock this evening a donation party will be held at the Zion's chapel and contributions of food and other necessities will be received for the North Adams Rescue mission.

Supper will be served Wednesday evening at St. Mark's parish house.

The late George Duquette's funeral will occur from the church of Notre Dame Wednesday morning.

Dr. Smith has moved his office to H. F. Barrett's building on Myrtle street.

CHESHIRE.

L. J. Fiske, now with his family in the Bahamas, writes that the mercury there is 70 degrees at night and day, and they have all the vegetables common here in the summer.

Ralph Williams is agent here for the Spaulding wheel and has engaged several. Town Clerk Northup reports the births for 1895 to be twenty-four.

Town meeting will be held March 16. There are to be two selectmen chosen.

There will be a dance at the Jacques district on Thursday evening if the weather is suitable.

February 23 there will be a concert at the Methodist church consisting of a Boston company of three: E. A. Hyer, tenor soloist; Miss West, reader; and Miss Leach, violinist. It will be under the auspices of the Epworth league.

Edward Streeter of Adams will be married tomorrow to Miss Eva Cummings of this place. The wedding ceremony will take place at the residence of the bride on Dean street. Their home will be at Boston.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

The Lucy sleigh well laden with jolly people went to South Williamstown last night. They had good sleighing and tested the new sleigh under the most favorable conditions that could be desired.

They stopped at the Idwilda and had a pleasant time. The Lucy is engaged for every night of this week for sleighing parties.

The King's Daughters will meet Tuesday evening at Miss Bertha Mosier. "Old Rag Tanager" will be at the opera house. Wednesday evening, Feb. 12. It is a good good play.

Miss Baron of Water street entertained friends at what Monday evening.

